CITY TAX LEVY REQUESTED OF COURT

Bid, Buy, Donate Jaycees Urge

Z. C. Enix, president of the Murray Chamber of Commerce today urged that everyone support the Jaycee radio auction which begins tonight. The proceeds of the auction will go toward the purchase of an airport site for Murray and Calloway County.

The Jaycees have estimated that $20,000 will be needed to purchase the land and to build a strip. After the landing strip is constructed, the state will help aid in the development of the airport on a 50-50 basis.

It has been made clear that the city and county can make their contribution in labor and materials and the state half will be in cash.

Enix made the following statement to the daily Ledger and Times this morning on the project.

Youth Events Won By Local Boy, Girl

All three of the major youth contests of Districts one of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation were won last night, at Paducah, by the Calloway County King and Queen who won their county crowns at the Annual Farm Bureau picnic on August 2. Miss Sandra Kay Bedwell, an accomplished 4-H member and a junior at Kirkcaldy High School, won the District Queen Crown in competition with county kings from eight other counties. Runner-up in the Queen contest was Miss Nancy June Dunn of Marshall County.

Charles Wayne Byars, an outstanding F. F. A. member and senior at the Murray Training School, was crowned District King in competition with county kings from six other counties; and was also District winner of the Talk Meet contest.

As District King and Queen, Charles and Sandra will compete with other district winners for the State Crowns at the Annual Farm Bureau Convention in Louisville in the November. Runner-up in the King Contest was Larry Hargrove of Livingston County. Jimmie Thompson of Calloway was named State Farm Bureau King at the State contest last November.

Miss Bedwell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James O. Bedwell of Benton Rt. 3. Byars' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Rex Byars.

Weather Report

United Press International

Kentucky Weather Synopsis: Winds were from the south this morning across Kentucky and will continue so tonight and Wednesday. Temperatures will continue to rise today and tonight, accompanied by rising humidity as well. A weak frontal system imbedded in a low-pressure area running from Lake Superior to the Texas Panhandle has set off a few thunderstorms in Oklahoma and Kansas during the night. As this system drifts eastward, cloudiness will tend to increase and there is a possibility of a few showers in western Kentucky by Wednesday.

Outlook for Thursday—Continued mild.

Regional Forecast: All sections of Kentucky—Increasing cloudiness and warmer today and tonight, high today 77 east to 80 west. Low tonight 50 east to 65 west. Mostly cloudy and continued warm Wednesday, high 80 to 85.

Tobacco Curing Advisory: Afternoon humidity ranged from 28 to 40 per cent Monday and temperatures from 70 north to 85 southwest. This is considered good curing weather for burley tobacco, according to University of Kentucky tobacco experts. It is expected to be more humid today but should still qualify as good curing weather with humidity generally below 50 per cent this afternoon. Bams should be opened during the day if tobacco is still curing.

Auxiliary To Keep Women Informed

Efforts to keep the women of America fully informed on the nation's defensive needs will be continued by the American Legion Auxiliary during the coming year, according to Mrs. Claude Anderson, president of the Murray Auxiliary Unit. The Auxiliary will again sponsor a nationwide Women's Forum on National Security, to be held in Washington, D. C., January 29, 30 and 31 to bring latest information before representatives of women's patriotic organizations from every state.

The American Legion Auxiliary stands squarely behind the American Legion's national security policies adopted at the Legion's 1958 National Convention, Mrs. Anderson stated. With the American Legion we are asking our government to halt its cutbacks in the defense program and instead to build up the strongest defense forces possible. Realizing that a vicious enemy is constantly threatening the security of our country, our homes and families, we will join with the Legion in urging Congress to again give the United States the greatest military strength of any nation in the world. —see continued.

Civilians To Organize In Murray

The Cadiz Civilian Club will hold a dinner meeting at the Kentucky Colonel on Thursday night at 7:30 for the purpose of forming a Civilian Club in Murray.

Civilian is a national organization and its motto is, "builders of good citizenship." Civilian is coined from the Latin word, Civitas, meaning citizenship. The clubs are composed of business and professional men, working together toward the improvement of their city and community.

Jan Davenport has been selected to head the local organizational committee and Bro. T. A. Thacker has been appointed secretary-treasurer of the committee. Davenport has been a member of the Hopkinsville club, which is one of the organization's most outstanding groups. Another member of the local committee is Dr. James Byrn who has been a Civilian for some time.

One of the major projects of Civilian International is to help children in need. The Hopkinsville club has been able to establish a school for retarded children in their city bearing all the expense of the school until it could be accredited to receive state aid. In addition the Hopkinsville club donated a building which they donated to the school, Davenport said.

To form a club here in Murray, it will be necessary to have a charter, membership of twenty-five, the committee chairman stated. We already have seven members who have signed the charter and a number of others do the same, he continued.

Civilian will meet twice monthly for a dinner meeting. We will be a working organization with a full schedule of activities for our members, a spokesman said.

FHA Girls Working On State Degrees

The girls working on State Degrees, and others presenting programs of Future Homemakers of America met with their first Vice-President, Nancy Bazzell in her home Monday night, September 22nd.

The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the program of work as planned for the chapter this year, so that each girl might understand what is expected of her in presenting a well planned program to the members.

When business was concluded the hostess served cokes and cookies to the following: Annette Jones, Donna Cecil, Faye Parron, Janet Like, Sandra Bedwell and Eva McCallon.

Pope Pius Feels Much Better

GASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (UPI) — Pope Pius XII regained his full mental powers and his power of speech today in another surprising comeback from the brink of death, but a high Vatican official cautioned the frail, 86-year-old Pontiff remained gravely ill.

A medical bulletin this morning said the Pope passed a generally good night despite a brief recurrence of hiccups, regained use of his senses, took some food and continued to improve. It said there were no signs of paralysis.

But it still was an unpredictable battle between life and death for the spiritual leader of the world's 450,000,000 Roman Catholics. He suffered a stroke and a "kidney crisis" Monday morning.

Four doctors who have attended him at the papal summer villa here in the Alban Hills south of Rome since Monday appeared to be waiting cautiously to see if the Pope's remarkable recovery was a genuine improvement or the result of the Pontiff's own formidable stamina and will power.

Prof. Antonio Ghislanzoni, one of the doctors attending the Pope, said no prognosis forecast of the course of a disease and the outlook afforded by this could be made for another two or three days. Medical experts feared a second stroke might be fatal.

Government After Faubus

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus charged today the federal government is trying to hold him for income tax evasion, extending as far back as 1954.

Faubus said that, all told, the government demanded taxes on $105,499 for 1954, 1955 and 1956.

A considerable part of it, he said, was for living expenses, which he is supposed to be furnished as governor.

He said he recently received "what is known as a 10-day notice" from the Internal Revenue Service, demanding payment.

Monday, he said, he received a letter, telling him that the previous letter was sent to him prematurely and that the whole matter is under thorough review.

He said the investigation is still going on.

He said they are not going to charge me for the mansion, the servants and the maintenance, but I don't know if this is a safe assumption or not."

He indicated strongly he thinks the government is after him for his unyielding attitude in the Little Rock integration cases.

Faubus discussed his tax troubles at a news conference, which he opened by saying a reporter had asked him at a previous conference whether he can be broken.

Faubus said he wanted now to answer the question.

"Yes, anyone can be broken with enough pressure," he said. "As an example of the pressure being brought to bear, I was told last year by an Internal Revenue agent that my income tax return would be checked. I didn't mind. I had nothing to hide."

Douglas High School Would Receive Benefit Of New Tax

The Fiscal Court today was presented with a resolution from the Murray City School Board requesting that the question be provided by the general election laws at the time of the General Election Tuesday, November 4, 1958.

The above-mentioned resolution was presented to Board of Education of Murray School District at a special meeting of said Board of Education called for the specific purpose of considering the above resolution, said meeting was held Monday, October 6, 1958 at 7:00 p. m. at the offices of the Murray Board of Education at Murray, Kentucky. Whereupon board member Hughes moved the adoption of the above resolution and board member Ryan seconded such motion. A vote being taken on the motion resulted in Mr. Sykes, Mr. Ryan, Mr. Wilson, Mr. Hughes voting aye. None voting nay. Motion passed and resolution adopted.

At a call meeting last night this City School Board met and discussed the project.

This morning the Fiscal Court voted to place the following question on the November election ballot, "Are you in favor of a special levy not to exceed 10c per $100 assessed valuation of property subject to taxation in the Murray Graded School District for a period not to exceed two years for the purpose of building two additional classrooms at Douglas High School?"

The only deviation from the request of the city school board, was the changing of the phrase "from 5c to 15c per $100" to "not to exceed 10c per $100".

needed, urgently at the school since curriculum has been expanded. Typing and commerce, music, and an expanded home economics program has been instituted and this takes more room, he said. Also more teachers have been added.

The resolution asks that the tax levy be made for two years only.

In a statement to the Ledger and Times Mr. Carter said that the facilities are inadequate at Douglas for a high school with the curriculum desired. There is a definite need for an addition of two rooms if the high school is to be maintained as requested by the patrons.

The Board of Education is requesting the Fiscal Court to permit the voters of this district to answer the question. Shall we spend more money to maintain that high school which is patronized voluntarily by the colored people of this community?"

The full text of the resolution to the Fiscal Court is as follows: To Fiscal Court of Calloway County:

"WHEREAS, It is necessary that the Murray Board of Education purchase some land and erect thereon two additional rooms at Douglas High School because of the overcrowded condition existing in the present buildings and facilities, and high school which is patronized voluntarily by the colored people of this community;

WHEREAS, It will be necessary for the Murray Board of Education to have additional revenue to provide the funds to purchase the lot and erect the addition and equip same, and

WHEREAS, It will be necessary for the tax levying authority of the Murray School District to fix a tax levy on property subject to taxation for the Murray School District, in addition to the maximum school levy as provided by KRS 160.475, to pay the said cost of building rooms and equipping same as aforesaid;

NOW, Be it resolved that the Fiscal Court of Calloway County be requested to adopt a Resolution submitting to the qualified voters of the Murray School District the question as to whether an additional special school building tax rate of not less than 5c nor more than 15c shall be levied on each $100 of property subject to taxation by the Murray School District for a period not exceeding two years.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, THAT the Fiscal Court of Calloway County cause such a ballot to be made available to the qualified voters of the Murray School District permitting the qualified voters to pass on the question of levying a special school building tax for improvement at Douglas of not less than 5c nor more than 15c, on each $100 of property subject to taxation by the Murray School District, said election be conducted and carried out as provided by the general election laws at the time of the General Election Tuesday, November 4, 1958."

The above-mentioned resolution was presented to Board of Education of Murray School District at a special meeting of said Board of Education called for the specific purpose of considering the above resolution, said meeting was held Monday, October 6, 1958 at 7:00 p. m. at the offices of the Murray Board of Education at Murray, Kentucky. Whereupon board member Hughes moved the adoption of the above resolution and board member Ryan seconded such motion. John Lassiter Will Head MTS PTA

Due to the press of outside work which, he felt, made him unable to carry out the duties of president, Bill Adams, president of the Murray Training School PTA resigned his post at the September general meeting of the organization. Mr. Adams said that he did not feel that he would have time to devote himself to the duties of the presidency as they should be carried out, rather than slight the work, he would turn it over to someone else.

The Executive Council met Thursday night, October 2nd at 8:00 with Vice-President John Lassiter presiding. By unanimous vote of the Executive Council, Mr. Lassiter was chosen to fill the vacancy. Pres. Lassiter then asked for the cooperation and help of the entire council and membership. Mrs. Benita Bums was elected vice president by acclamation.

The members of the Training School chapter are reminded of the regular meeting on October 16th at 6:00 for "Parent-Teacher Action" night. Supper will be served and the price of admission will be a membership card. A program of interest to all is being prepared to follow the supper.

Skit Given At Recent Meet Of Garden Department

"This Is Your Life, Mrs. Rose" was the program skit given at a recent meeting of the Garden department of the Women's Club held at the club house. The skit was written and directed by Mrs. Marvin Wraether.

Mrs. Max Churchill, chairman of the department, presided at the meeting. Presenting were Mesdames Ed Frank Kirk, Maude Crass, Carrie Hendon, Fred Colham, J. B. Wilson, Fred Gingles, and Wrayton Rayburn. Mrs. Vernon Shown from the Music department of the club presented the music.

Hostesses for the afternoon meeting were Mesdames John Ryan, C. C. Farmer, Harold Douglas, B. C. Harris, and Perry Brandon.

Mayor George Hart was named president of the Kentucky Bankers' Association Monday at their fifty-fourth annual convention in the Brown Hotel, Louisville. H. Glenn Doran of the Peoples Saving Bank, was elected vice-president of the saving bank section.

The remains of Pfc. Charlie R. Cooper will arrive in Murray soon for burial, according to an announcement received today by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lube A. Cooper of Calloway County.

Pfc. Cooper was killed in action at the age of 21 during the first week of the Normandy beachhead.

Mrs. Minnie P. Outland, 67, died at 7:20 last night at her home near Pottersville. Death was attributed to paralysis after a week of serious illness.

Survivors include her husband, two daughters and four sons.

HERE'S HOW IT'S DONE — Milwaukee Braves' Warren Spahn rears back to deliver a pitch in the fourth game of the 1958 World Series at Yankee Stadium, exhibiting the style which enabled him to completely handuff the vaunted Yanks. Sparked by the two-hit pitching of Spahn, the Braves shut-out the Yankees 3-to-0, to rack up their third series victory in four games.

REDS IN A PICKLE — Milwaukee Braves' Red Schoendienst is the middle man between New-York Yankees' Don Larsen (18) and Yogi Berra in the sixth inning of the third World Series game at Yankee Stadium. With no place to go, Hank Aaron batted already on third base, Red was "squeezed out" before he could tally a run. The Yanks went on to win their first game of the series 4-to-0.

BRVES WIN THIRD FROM YANKS — New York Yankees' Norm Siebern, who led off the first inning of the fourth World Series game at Yankee Stadium, slides into a forecourt at second base on Mickey Mantle's grounder. Milwaukee Braves' Red Schoendienst covers second. The Braves went on to win the game 3-to-0, behind the two-hit pitching of veteran Warren Spahn, to put the Braves comfortably ahead in the series, three games to one.

Turley Catches Up With Braves

By FRED DOWN

United Press International
NEW YORK UPI — Bob Turley caught up to the Milwaukee Braves and the law of averages caught up to Lew Burdette.

And so the 1958 World Series goes back to Milwaukee Wednesday with the world champion Braves still in the drivers' seat but the New York Yankees confident they can win the series now that they have routed the No. 1 jinx in their history.

A crowd of 65,279 saw Turley, kayoed in the first inning of the Yankees' 13-5 second-game loss in Milwaukee, blow down the Braves with an assortment of fast balls and change-ups. That had them "taking" strikes all afternoon.

The Yankees, meanwhile, hit Burdette, the man from Nitro, W. Va., who had beaten them four straight times, sharp in the early innings and then kayoed him in a riotous six-run sixth-inning rally that clinched the 7-0 victory.

Turley Was Superb
Turley, a 21-game winner during the American League season, was superb. He faced only 34 batters, struck out 10 and was in trouble only once, in the top of the sixth when left-fielder Elston Howard, subbing for four-lime goat Norm Siebern, batted him out with a splendid diving catch of Red Schoendienst's sinking liner.

At the time it was still anybody's game. Gil McDougald had given the Yankees a 1-0 lead in the third inning with a homer that crashed into the left field foul pole screen but the Braves' brilliant defense was keeping Burdette out of trouble.

Bill Bruton opened the sixth with a bad-hop single over shortstop Tony Kubek's head and Schoendienst followed with a looping fly to short left center. It looked like a hit but Howard made a diving catch of the ball and Bruton was doubled off first base.

That took Turley out of his only jam and the Yankees sewed it up in their half of the same frame when they finally put their world series nemesis to rout.

Bob's Second Win
Hank Bauer led it off with a single and Mickey Mantle also singled after Jerry Lumpe bunted foul on a third strike. A line double by Yogi Berra, a walk to Howard and Bill Skowron's single finished Burdette and brought on Juan Pizarro, who subsequently was tagged for a two-run double by Gil McDougald and a two-run single by Turley.

The six runs, of course, were the ball game as Turley worked his way through the final three innings without serious difficulty. It was Bob's second series win, overall, and the second time in this series that the Yankees shut out the Braves' sluggers. Don Larsen and Gyne Duren combined to do it in the third game.

Burdette said he pitched about the same as he had in his four previous victories.

The Yankees hit him hard right from the start and only fine defensive plays by Bruton and Hank Aaron postponed his eventual departure.

That took Turley out of his only jam and the Yankees sewed it up in their half of the same frame when they finally put their world series nemesis to rout.

Bob's Second Win
Hank Bauer led it off with a single and Mickey Mantle also singled after Jerry Lumpe bunted foul on a third strike. A line double by Yogi Berra, a walk to Howard and Bill Skowron's single finished Burdette and brought on Juan Pizarro, who subsequently was tagged for a two-run double by Gil McDougald and a two-run single by Turley.

The six runs, of course, were the ball game as Turley worked his way through the final three innings without serious difficulty. It was Bob's second series win, overall, and the second time in this series that the Yankees shut out the Braves' sluggers. Don Larsen and Gyne Duren combined to do it in the third game.

Burdette said he pitched about the same as he had in his four previous victories.

The Yankees hit him hard right from the start and only fine defensive plays by Bruton and Hank Aaron postponed his eventual departure.

Bill Bruton opened the sixth with a bad-hop single over shortstop Tony Kubek's head and Schoendienst followed with a looping fly to short left center. It looked like a hit but Howard made a diving catch of the ball and Bruton was doubled off first base.
